Federico Gambacorta : Catalogue of the Late Roman, Byzantine and Barbaric Coins in the Charles University Collection (364-1092 A. D.) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Catalogue of the Late Roman, Byzantine and Barbaric Coins in the Charles University Collection (364-1092 A. D.):

The collection of ancient coins at Charles University has existed in its present state since 1945. That year Greek,

Roman, and other ancient coins were entrusted to the care of the Seminar for Ancient History and incorporated into their already extensive collection. The present collection contains about four thousand pieces, mostly in silver and bronze. Federico Gambacortas catalog showcases 243 coins from the collection and is organized chronologically, from the period in which Valentinian I was emperor of Rome 364 to 375 AD to the end of the Byzantine Empire. The catalog features entries with full-color illustrations and a detailed historical description of each coin.
