Spanish maiolica in the collection of the Hispanic society of America

Hispanic Society of America. : Spanish maiolica in the collection of the Hispanic society of America before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Spanish maiolica in the collection of the Hispanic society of America:

This book was digitized and reprinted from the collections of the University of California Libraries. It was produced from digital images created through the libraries mass digitization efforts. The digital images were cleaned and prepared for printing through automated processes. Despite the cleaning process, occasional flaws may still be present that were part of the original work itself, or introduced during digitization. This book and hundreds of thousands of others can be found online in the HathiTrust Digital Library at www.hathitrust.org.

About the Author Edwin Atlee Barber (1851-1916) served as curator and then director of the Pennsylvania Museum (now the Philadelphia Museum of Art). He had a particular interest in pottery, ceramics, and glassware and played an integral role in developing the collection held today at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, including a substantial collection of Pennsylvania German slipware.
