Street Kings is a tool to educate the uneducated. Most decisions is based on situations. Going to prison or taking a friends charge is considered real today! Living in poverty is tragic, it creates the the thinking pattern. In most cases what you see is what you get majority of the times. Living in dysfunctional thinking creates dysfunctional thinking.

Our actions is based on our environment due to the dysfunctional attitude in the household!

About the AuthorAs I grew up in poverty in a dysfunctional household. No role models to look up to or no degrees to look forward. I became a product of my environment. Being real could get you killed or life behind bars. In the wrong place at the wrong time can change your life forever. Making the correct decision in critical circumstances can't be judged until your in that circumstance. You can't judge a book by its cover. Focus on the message not the messenger!
